

THE CHATTANOOGA DAILY REBEL.

VOLUME I.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1862.

NUMBER 98.

Terms of Subscription.

DAILY HERALD per year.....	$10.00
... ... Monthly.....	3.00
... ... Three Months.....	9.00
... ... One Month.....	1.00

NOTE: The Cash must accompany all orders for the paper. Shipments of private persons will receive no attention. Therefore such shipper has better not send to us.

Rates of Advertising.

One Square of Tex 13¢ each, one insertion, $1.00 to $10; and 50 cents for each subsequent insertion less than one month.

TELEGRAPHIC.

THE DAILY REBEL.

RECEIVED EVERY MORNING (MOSAIC EXCEPTED)

BY FRANCIS M. PAUL.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 26, 1862.

REMOVAL.

The office of the DAILY REBEL has been removed to the back-rooms over the Bank of Tennessee.

PERSONAL.

D. W. CAMERON.—By a dispatch from Branchville, South Carolina, we learn that Mr. D. W. Cameron, an experienced and accomplished telegraph operator, died there on the 23d inst. His acquaintance in the telegraphic fraternity was almost universal, and his death was regretted by all.

It is reported the civil authorities advised against anybody returning for the present.

Some report the enemy gradually falling back towards the Potomac, but we have no satisfactory proof yet that he has abandoned the design of advancing on Richmond by Fredericksburg.

THE CONFEDERATE STATES DEBT. The Enquirer says that the debt of the Government, at this time, may be thus stated in round numbers:

Treasury Notes currency..... $50,000,000
Interest bearing Notes..... 80,000,000
Call Loan..... 60,000,000
Funded Debt..... 70,000,000

The Examiner reviews the naval preparations of the North, and says we must look to our foundries to offset the naval power of the enemy. When we can match their naval armament with our batteries on shore, we may expect to hold our sea-coast against the fleets of Yankee land. It will be of little importance that we cannot compete with the enemy on the high seas as long as we can hold him on our coasts.

The Whig in an article on recognition and intervention says, let us not deceive ourselves by believing that the stoppage of a few factories, and a few thousand unemployed laborers will cause the English government to change its policy, and break this blockade. During the great Napoleon's war one out of every seven inhabitants was supported by charity.

DISCOVERY OF SALT. CHARLESTON, Nov. 24.—An immense bell of rock salt, affording an apparently inexhaustable supply has been accidentally discovered at Opelika, Ala. Governor Pickens has received a telegram offering to contract to supply the State with any amount, delivered at Augusta, at five dollars per bushel.

RICHMOND, Nov. 24.—Southern papers of the 21st strenuously urge a forward movement by way of Fredericksburg. They continue but little else of interest.

The latest from Fredericksburg to-day represents all quiet.

A dispatch from Gen. Sumner to the Mayor, dated 22d, says so long as no hostile demonstration is made the town will not be shelled.

FOREIGN NEWS. The Yankees papers will have it that "the rebels are building a navy in England." The New York Tribune says:

It is said that the efforts of the rebels in Europe toward the formation of a navy there have been attended with good success, and there are now, in various European ports, no less than fifteen iron-clad steamers in various stages of progress, of which eight are nearly ready for sea. These eight vessels already have their armament on board, and it is said that on a given day they, in company with the steamer "200," will rendezvous at some convenient point, and will steer direct for New York bay, sail up and attack New York. The armor of these vessels is said to be such that they will be invulnerable to the effects of any known projectile, while their armament is said to embrace guns and mortars of the most approved construction. It is said that the powder of this fleet will be such that they will be able to lay the entire city in ashes, but that they expect that, in order to avert this calamity, the city will be surrendered to them. And this is only the beginning of the exploits that are expected of this new rebel navy.

No doubt there is much idle brag in all this. But it may be wise to provide against such an attempt. Intelligence from other sources has demonstrated the fact that the rebels are really having iron-clad vessels built in European ports. There is no doubt that the rebel Government is preparing to strike a blow with their navy somewhere.

MIRTH AND GLAISE IN THE YANKEE CAPITAL. Notwithstanding the sufferings and miseries of the country, the Yankee capital is drunk with mirth and gaiety. A Washington correspondent of a New York paper says:

Washington is just now lively beyond all precedent. Three theatres, two circuses, and two hybrid places of amusement known respectively as Canterbury and Olympia Hall, besides a dozen smaller places of enjoyment, are in full blast, and are highly janned to repetition. Hacks by the hundreds, filled with pleasure-seeking parties, are incessantly dashes hither and thither; gaily dressed equerians enter about the avenues, and dense crowds of happy, richly dressed pedestrians throng the sidewalks at all hours. The skeleton in our national closet is not suspected of existence in this section, the gigantic war affed people as little as if it were being waged between the Hottentots and Scenie-gambians.

The irreducible Barnum is also here lecturing on Sundays, in the Capital grounds, upon temperance, and on other days exchanging views of Commodore Nutt, Tom Thumb, grisly bears, etc., for the quarters and halves of the citizens, in which transaction he, as usual, gets much the best of the bargain. Just now there is a more interesting newspaper war raging between him and Nixon, the proprietor of a rival circus, in which Barnum is, as usual, ahead, and has shown that, in the use of abuse, he is by far the biggest blackguard of the two.

Maggie Mitchell, at Ford's theatre, on Tenth street, has drawn crowded houses for six consecutive weeks, and in addition, has turned the heads of half the sponey shoulder strays in Washington. Nightly the stage is flooded with bouquets, and frequently with more substantial evidences of admiration, until the green houses of Washington and the pockets of her admirers are about equally empty. And thus we go—a gay and festive community.

RUNNING THE BLOCKADE. The New York Tribune says:

Intelligence from the West Indies says that notwithstanding the vigilance of our gun-boats we find the British steamers Gladiator, Minho and Oliveira, all laden with cotton from the South, had run out of the Port of Bermuda for England. False signals were thrown out from the shore in order to decoy the Union vessels from their stations just as the Minho sailed. They had the effect desired by the English sympathizers with rebels and traitors.

The Little Rock Gazette learns that the Federals are in the northwest part of Arkansas, some eighteen thousand strong, and their advance is probably within a few miles of Fayetteville. They are divided into four bodies, all of which are areas of about twenty miles, their principal camp being at Walnut Springs, in Benton county. It is stated also that a few regiments of Federals are encamped at Pittman's Ferry, on the northeast border, and that a detachment has been down as far as Pocahontas, arresting citizens and in some cases destroying property.

NEGRO MISSING. A NEGRO servant named William, or Will, belonging to Capt. W. A. Goodman, 4d General Cavalry, was left in the rear of the army near Bragg's army, at the time of the Battle of Franklin, Tenn., early in September. When last heard from he was complaining of illness, and had no money, and was compelled to go to the whereabouts of a sold servant, or to his old master, who had an English saddle. A suitable reward will be paid for the recovery of said slave, and her dearest love at this place.

W. GOODMAN,
Holly Springs, Miss.

STRAYED AWAY. R. W. Johnson has been re-elected Confederate Senator from Arkansas. Mr. Johnson has represented his State in Congress for many years.

Three young ladies announce through the Raleigh N. C. papers that they will provide clothes for three soldiers as long as the war continues, if the soldiers whom they select will consent to marry them when the war is over.

R. M. LYTHE,
Sergeant C. S. A.

TELEGRAPHIC.

DISPATCHES FOR THE DAILY REBEL.

THE FUTURE OVER MCLELLAN.

FROM VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, Nov. 24.—Passengers by the evening train, bring nothing new from Fredericksburg. No fighting has occurred yet. The enemy occupy the same position as yesterday, and though nothing positive had transpired concerning his movements, the impression prevails that he must retire from his present position, or perform a movement not laid down in the programme—such as Jackson helped McClellan to perform. It will not take long to develop the designs of the enemy, which will be promptly met.

Fredericksburg, it is said, presents a deserted appearance—nearly all the inhabitants having left.

It is reported the civil authorities advised against anybody returning for the present.

Some report the enemy gradually falling back towards the Potomac, but we have no satisfactory proof yet that he has abandoned the design of advancing on Richmond by Fredericksburg.

THE CONFEDERATE STATES DEBT. The Enquirer says that the debt of the Government, at this time, may be thus stated in round numbers:

Treasury Notes currency..... $50,000,000
Interest bearing Notes..... 80,000,000
Call Loan..... 60,000,000
Funded Debt..... 70,000,000

The Examiner reviews the naval preparations of the North, and says we must look to our foundries to offset the naval power of the enemy. When we can match their naval armament with our batteries on shore, we may expect to hold our sea-coast against the fleets of Yankee land. It will be of little importance that we cannot compete with the enemy on the high seas as long as we can hold him on our coasts.

The Whig in an article on recognition and intervention says, let us not deceive ourselves by believing that the stoppage of a few factories, and a few thousand unemployed laborers will cause the English government to change its policy, and break this blockade. During the great Napoleon's war one out of every seven inhabitants was supported by charity.

DISCOVERY OF SALT. CHARLESTON, Nov. 24.—An immense bell of rock salt, affording an apparently inexhaustable supply has been accidentally discovered at Opelika, Ala. Governor Pickens has received a telegram offering to contract to supply the State with any amount, delivered at Augusta, at five dollars per bushel.

RICHMOND, Nov. 24.—Southern papers of the 21st strenuously urge a forward movement by way of Fredericksburg. They continue but little else of interest.

The latest from Fredericksburg to-day represents all quiet.

A dispatch from Gen. Sumner to the Mayor, dated 22d, says so long as no hostile demonstration is made the town will not be shelled.

FOREIGN NEWS. The Yankees papers will have it that "the rebels are building a navy in England." The New York Tribune says:

It is said that the efforts of the rebels in Europe toward the formation of a navy there have been attended with good success, and there are now, in various European ports, no less than fifteen iron-clad steamers in various stages of progress, of which eight are nearly ready for sea. These eight vessels already have their armament on board, and it is said that on a given day they, in company with the steamer "200," will rendezvous at some convenient point, and will steer direct for New York bay, sail up and attack New York. The armor of these vessels is said to be such that they will be invulnerable to the effects of any known projectile, while their armament is said to embrace guns and mortars of the most approved construction. It is said that the powder of this fleet will be such that they will be able to lay the entire city in ashes, but that they expect that, in order to avert this calamity, the city will be surrendered to them. And this is only the beginning of the exploits that are expected of this new rebel navy.

No doubt there is much idle brag in all this. But it may be wise to provide against such an attempt. Intelligence from other sources has demonstrated the fact that the rebels are really having iron-clad vessels built in European ports. There is no doubt that the rebel Government is preparing to strike a blow with their navy somewhere.

MIRTH AND GLAISE IN THE YANKEE CAPITAL. Notwithstanding the sufferings and miseries of the country, the Yankee capital is drunk with mirth and gaiety. A Washington correspondent of a New York paper says:

It is said that the efforts of the rebels in Europe toward the formation of a navy there have been attended with good success, and there are now, in various European ports, no less than fifteen iron-clad steamers in various stages of progress, of which eight are nearly ready for sea. These eight vessels already have their armament on board, and it is said that on a given day they, in company with the steamer "200," will rendezvous at some convenient point, and will steer direct for New York bay, sail up and attack New York. The armor of these vessels is said to be such that they will be invulnerable to the effects of any known projectile, while their armament is said to embrace guns and mortars of the most approved construction. It is said that the powder of this fleet will be such that they will be able to lay the entire city in ashes, but that they expect that, in order to avert this calamity, the city will be surrendered to them. And this is only the beginning of the exploits that are expected of this new rebel navy.

No doubt there is much idle brag in all this. But it may be wise to provide against such an attempt. Intelligence from other sources has demonstrated the fact that the rebels are really having iron-clad vessels built in European ports. There is no doubt that the rebel Government is preparing to strike a blow with their navy somewhere.

DISCOVERY OF SALT. CHARLESTON, Nov. 24.—An immense bell of rock salt, affording an apparently inexhaustable supply has been accidentally discovered at Opelika, Ala. Governor Pickens has received a telegram offering to contract to supply the State with any amount, delivered at Augusta, at five dollars per bushel.

RICHMOND, Nov. 24.—Southern papers of the 21st strenuously urge a forward movement by way of Fredericksburg. They continue but little else of interest.

The latest from Fredericksburg to-day represents all quiet.

A dispatch from Gen. Sumner to the Mayor, dated 22d, says so long as no hostile demonstration is made the town will not be shelled.

FOREIGN NEWS. The Yankees papers will have it that "the rebels are building a navy in England." The New York Tribune says:

It is said that the efforts of the rebels in Europe toward the formation of a navy there have been attended with good success, and there are now, in various European ports, no less than fifteen iron-clad steamers in various stages of progress, of which eight are nearly ready for sea. These eight vessels already have their armament on board, and it is said that on a given day they, in company with the steamer "200," will rendezvous at some convenient point, and will steer direct for New York bay, sail up and attack New York. The armor of these vessels is said to be such that they will be invulnerable to the effects of any known projectile, while their armament is said to embrace guns and mortars of the most approved construction. It is said that the powder of this fleet will be such that they will be able to lay the entire city in ashes, but that they expect that, in order to avert this calamity, the city will be surrendered to them. And this is only the beginning of the exploits that are expected of this new rebel navy.

No doubt there is much idle brag in all this. But it may be wise to provide against such an attempt. Intelligence from other sources has demonstrated the fact that the rebels are really having iron-clad vessels built in European ports. There is no doubt that the rebel Government is preparing to strike a blow with their navy somewhere.

MIRTH AND GLAISE IN THE YANKEE CAPITAL. Notwithstanding the sufferings and miseries of the country, the Yankee capital is drunk with mirth and gaiety. A Washington correspondent of a New York paper says:

It is said that the efforts of the rebels in Europe toward the formation of a navy there have been attended with good success, and there are now, in various European ports, no less than fifteen iron-clad steamers in various stages of progress, of which eight are nearly ready for sea. These eight vessels already have their armament on board, and it is said that on a given day they, in company with the steamer "200," will rendezvous at some convenient point, and will steer direct for New York bay, sail up and attack New York. The armor of these vessels is said to be such that they will be invulnerable to the effects of any known projectile, while their armament is said to embrace guns and mortars of the most approved construction. It is said that the powder of this fleet will be such that they will be able to lay the entire city in ashes, but that they expect that, in order to avert this calamity, the city will be surrendered to them. And this is only the beginning of the exploits that are expected of this new rebel navy.

No doubt there is much idle brag in all this. But it may be wise to provide against such an attempt. Intelligence from other sources has demonstrated the fact that the rebels are really having iron-clad vessels built in European ports. There is no doubt that the rebel Government is preparing to strike a blow with their navy somewhere.

DISCOVERY OF SALT. CHARLESTON, Nov. 24.—An immense bell of rock salt, affording an apparently inexhaustable supply has been accidentally discovered at Opelika, Ala. Governor Pickens has received a telegram offering to contract to supply the State with any amount, delivered at Augusta, at five dollars per bushel.

RICHMOND, Nov. 24.—Southern papers of the 21st strenuously urge a forward movement by way of Fredericksburg. They continue but little else of interest.

The latest from Fredericksburg to-day represents all quiet.

A dispatch from Gen. Sumner to the Mayor, dated 22d, says so long as no hostile demonstration is made the town will not be shelled.

FOREIGN NEWS. The Yankees papers will have it that "the rebels are building a navy in England." The New York Tribune says:

It is said that the efforts of the rebels in Europe toward the formation of a navy there have been attended with good success, and there are now, in various European ports, no less than fifteen iron-clad steamers in various stages of progress, of which eight are nearly ready for sea. These eight vessels already have their armament on board, and it is said that on a given day they, in company with the steamer "200," will rendezvous at some convenient point, and will steer direct for New York bay, sail up and attack New York. The armor of these vessels is said to be such that they will be invulnerable to the effects of any known projectile, while their armament is said to embrace guns and mortars of the most approved construction. It is said that the powder of this fleet will be such that they will be able to lay the entire city in ashes, but that they expect that, in order to avert this calamity, the city will be surrendered to them. And this is only the beginning of the exploits that are expected of this new rebel navy.

No doubt there is much idle brag in all this. But it may be wise to provide against such an attempt. Intelligence from other sources has demonstrated the fact that the rebels are really having iron-clad vessels built in European ports. There is no doubt that the rebel Government is preparing to strike a blow with their navy somewhere.

MIRTH AND GLAISE IN THE YANKEE CAPITAL. Notwithstanding the sufferings and miseries of the country, the Yankee capital is drunk with mirth and gaiety. A Washington correspondent of a New York paper says:

It is said that the efforts of the rebels in Europe toward the formation of a navy there have been attended with good success, and there are now, in various European ports, no less than fifteen iron-clad steamers in various stages of progress, of which eight are nearly ready for sea. These eight vessels already have their armament on board, and it is said that on a given day they, in company with the steamer "200," will rendezvous at some convenient point, and will steer direct for New York bay, sail up and attack New York. The armor of these vessels is said to be such that they will be invulnerable to the effects of any known projectile, while their armament is